

Atmospheric Layers

We know that the gravitational force increases near the Earth and decreases as we go higher. As a result the density of air also differs and can be found in five layers called Troposphere, Stratosphere, Mesosphere, Thermosphere and Exosphere. All weather changes occur in the Troposphere. The study of weather is called Meteorology.

The word climate is derived from the Greek word called clima.